

COPYRIGHTS

Amawebs.com states its commitment with the protection of and respect for Intellectual Property, Copyright and Royalties; in accordance with the treaties, agreements, conventions, international decisions, and all rules that regulate, prevent and sanction their infringement or violation.

Amawebs.com invites and demands all participants in their web site and the global community in general, to proceed in such a way that does not cause damage to Intellectual Property or third parties Copyrights or Royalties. Obligatory compliance rules and guidelines are established within the Company to prevent possible infringements; prior to the following consideration:

Amawebs.com neither examines nor revises the contents, images, pictures, texts, music, or videos, among others; of the advertisements (Ads) prior to their publication, editing or transmission by the advertisers. That is the reason why the Web Portal has a special box to report ads which infringe Intellectual Property or third parties Copyrights. Once noticed, according to the parameters described below; the possible contravening contents will be removed, either preventively or permanently.

If you consider your work has been copied in such a way that constitutes an infringement of your Intellectual Property rights, Copyright or Royalties, you shall proceed according to the following guidelines:

- a) Report the advertisement (Ad) in the corresponding box.
- b) Send the Amawebs.com Copyright Agent an email (to legal@amarillasinternet.com) with the following information:
  - Electronic or written signature of the person who is authorized to act on behalf of the copyrights' owner.
  - Description of the material protected by copyright that you were infringed.
  - Description of the place in the web site where the material, you claim was infringed, is/ was located.
  - Full address (country and city/ town), telephone number, and contact email address.
  - A statement providing information which states that the material used is not authorized by the holder, his/her agent or justice.
  - A statement providing evidence that the information in your report is correct and that you are the copyrights' holder or you are authorized to act on behalf of the copyrights' holder, with appropriate evidence that corroborates such authorization.

Amawebs.com, within the principle and due process and contradiction; shall warn the advertiser who possibly committed infringement of copyrights, to exhibit and demonstrate to have the rights. Once it is proven who the lawful holder of the copyrights is, the Company shall proceed to either permanently remove the respective advertisement (Ad) or reestablish such advertisement. The parties have the freedom to resort to legal authorities to resolve their differences by law, with no intervention or liability of Amawebs.com. Either the particular advertiser who committed the infringement or the offender who made a false report shall be the only ones held liable; either personally or as a corporation.